Advantage Crop Protection Inc. (ACPI) is a Canadian based company located in Regina and Saskatoon. Through its strong partnerships and strong connections into Asia. ACPI has capabilities to procure most post-patent Crop Protection Products. We are on the ground from the source manufacturer to the delivery to retail. With a long history of supply markets. ACPI will be able to give retails another option to obtain real post-patent products. Presently the retail trade is inundated with pseudo generics. Brands selling each others' products through licensing agreements and royalties. This does not make for competitive margins or supply choices for those that want to change their market position. ACPI owns its own labels, controls procurement and provides a true post-patent to the Ag retail.
